Lo sguardo Maria Grazia Simone,2019-07-01 Lo sguardo costituisce una importante competenza della persona, da sostenere e valorizzare per mobilitare sin dall'infanzia le risorse individuali e rendere ciascuno partecipe di quanto accade intorno: osservatore attento, curioso e vigile nel mentre tesse una molteplicità di transazioni con gli altri e con l'ambiente circostante. Di taglio interdisciplinare, il volume rende conto di un'ampia serie di ricerche, fra le più significative nell'attuale dibattito sulla pedagogia dell'infanzia, testimonia riflessioni ed esperienze di educazione dello sguardo con il contributo di docenti universitari provenienti da otto diversi atenei. L'opera si rivolge in particolare a coloro che compiono ricerche scientifiche in questo ambito, agli educatori e a quanti si prendono cura dell'infanzia.

Ambienti flessibili. Creatività, inclusione, ecologia, reale/virtuale. Teorie e buone pratiche per la pedagogia Barbara De Angelis,2025-03-02 Gli ambienti rappresentano una caratteristica fondamentale nell'esistenza delle persone. La dimensione spaziale concorre alla costruzione dell'identità, delle narrazioni individuali e collettive, delle forme e delle pratiche attraverso cui si percepisce il mondo e si interagisce con esso. Appare dunque necessario affrontare con maggiore chiarezza e profondità il tema della progettazione degli ambienti, per tracciare nuovi paradigmi e pratiche in grado di potenziare, secondo un'ottica interdisciplinare, plurale e inclusiva, sia l'autonomia individuale che la consapevolezza di ognuno di essere parte dell'umanità. I saggi che compongono il volume sono parte degli esiti del Convegno Ambienti flessibili. Creatività, inclusione, ecologia, reale e virtuale organizzato dalla prof.ssa Barbara De Angelis del Dipartimento di Scienze della Formazione e dalla prof.ssa Laura Farroni del Dipartimento di Architettura dell'Università degli Studi Roma Tre. Experiential Learning David A. Kolb,2014-12-17 Experiential learning is a powerful and proven approach to teaching and learning that is based on one incontrovertible reality: people learn best through experience. Now, in this extensively updated book, David A. Kolb offers a systematic and up-to-date statement of the theory of experiential learning and its modern applications to education, work, and adult development. Experiential Learning, Second Edition builds on the intellectual origins of experiential learning as defined by figures such as John Dewey, Kurt Lewin, Jean Piaget, and L.S. Vygotsky, while also reflecting three full decades of research and practice since the classic first edition. Kolb models the underlying structures of the learning process based on the latest insights in psychology, philosophy, and physiology. Building on his comprehensive structural model, he offers an exceptionally useful typology of individual learning styles and corresponding structures of knowledge in different academic disciplines and careers. Kolb also applies experiential learning to higher education and lifelong learning, especially with regard to adult education. This edition reviews recent applications and uses of experiential learning, updates Kolb's framework to address the current organizational and educational landscape, and features current examples of experiential learning both in the field and in the classroom. It will be an indispensable resource for everyone who wants to promote more effective learning: in higher education, training, organizational development, lifelong learning environments, and online.

Routledge International Handbook of Outdoor Studies Barbara Humberstone, Heather Prince, Karla A.

Henderson, 2015-11-19 The 'outdoors' is a physical and ideological space in which people engage with their environment, but it is also an important vehicle for learning and for leisure. The Routledge Handbook of Outdoor Studies is the first book to attempt to define and survey the multi-disciplinary set of approaches that constitute the broad field of outdoor studies, including outdoor recreation, outdoor education, adventure education, environmental studies, physical culture studies and leisure studies. It reflects upon the often haphazard development of outdoor studies as a discipline, critically assesses current knowledge in outdoor studies, and identifies further opportunities for future research in this area. With a broader sweep than any other book yet published on the topic, this handbook traces the philosophical and conceptual contours of the discipline, as well as exploring key contemporary topics and debates, and identifying important issues in education and professional practice. It examines the cultural, social and political contexts in which people experience the outdoors, including perspectives on outdoor studies from a wide range of countries, providing the perfect foundation for any student, researcher, educator or outdoors practitioner looking to deepen their professional knowledge of the outdoors and our engagement with the world around us.

Buildings for Education Stefano Della Torre, Massimiliano Bocciarelli, Laura Daglio, Raffaella Neri, 2019-12-30 This open access book presents theoretical and practical research relating to the vast, publicly financed program for the construction of new schools and the reorganization of existing educational buildings in Italy. This transformative process aims to give old buildings a fresh identity, to ensure that facilities are compliant with the new educational and teaching models, and to improve both energy efficiency and structural safety with respect to seismic activity. The book is divided into three sections, the first of which focuses on the social role of the school as a civic building that can serve the needs of the community. Innovations in both design and construction processes are then analyzed, paying special attention to the Building Information Modeling (BIM) strategy as a tool for the integration of different disciplines. The final section is devoted to the built heritage and tools, technologies, and approaches for the upgrading of existing buildings so that they meet the new regulations on building performance. The book will be of interest to all who wish to learn about the latest insights into the challenges posed by, and the opportunities afforded by, a comprehensive school building and renovation program.

Evaluating Learning Environments ,2019-02-18 The recent trend in innovative school design has provided exciting places to both learn and teach. New generation learning environments have encouraged educators to unleash responsive pedagogies previously hindered by traditional classrooms, and has allowed students to engage in a variety of learning experiences well beyond the traditional 'chalk and talk' common in many schools. These spaces have made cross-disciplinary instruction, collaborative learning, individualised curriculum, ubiquitous technologies, and specialised equipment more accessible than ever before. The quality of occupation of such spaces has also been encouraging. Many learning spaces now resemble places of collegiality, intellectual intrigue and comfort, as opposed to the restrictive and monotonous classrooms many of us experienced in years past. These successes, however, have generated a very real problem. Do these new generation learning environments actually work—and if so, in what ways? Are they leading to the sorts of improved experiences and learning outcomes for students they promise? This book describes strategies for assessing what is actually working. Drawing on the best thinking from our best minds—doctoral students tackling the challenge of isolating space as a variable within the phenomenon of contemporary schooling—Evaluating Learning Environments draws together thirteen approaches to learning environment evaluation that capture the latest thinking in terms of emerging issues, methods and knowledge.

Drawdown Paul Hawken,2018-02-22 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER For the first time ever, an international coalition of leading researchers, scientists and policymakers has come together to offer a set of realistic and bold solutions to climate change. All of the techniques described here - some well-known, some you may have never heard of - are economically viable, and communities throughout the world are already enacting them. From revolutionizing how we produce and consume food to educating girls in lower-income countries, these are all solutions which, if deployed collectively on a global scale over the next thirty years, could not just slow the earth's warming, but reach drawdown: the point when greenhouse gasses in the atmosphere peak and begin to decline. So what are we waiting for?

T-Kit 4 - Intercultural learning Council of Europe, 2018-03-20 Intercultural learning is an important topic for the priorities of both the European Commission and the Council of Europe, and of their partnership in the field of youth. Intercultural learning is an educational approach that can lead to social transformation, so that people from different cultural backgrounds can develop positive relations based on the values and principles of human rights and on seeing cultural differences as positive things. It is a form of political and social education that needs to pay attention not only to intercultural relations, but also to different understandings of culture and diversity, power relations, distribution of resources, political and social context, human rights, discrimination, history and daily interactions among different groups. This T-Kit was developed for the context of youth work and non-formal education with young people, both of which support the personal development, social integration and active citizenship of young people. Educators and youth workers have an important role in addressing intercultural learning in their work with young people. They can stimulate young people's learning in their daily lives, so that they can question and extend their perception, develop competences to interact positively with people from different cultural backgrounds and embrace the values of diversity, equality and dignity. In today's Europe, these values and skills are fundamental for young people and for society as a whole in order to continue building peace and mutual understanding.

Using Experiential Learning in the Classroom Scott D. Wurdinger, 2005-04-13 This book explains what experiential learning is, why it works, and how it can be used in both high school and post secondary settings. Tools for assessing experiential learning are also provided.

The Co-Housing Phenomenon Emanuele Giorgi, 2021-01-29 This book presents 50 case studies of contemporary co-housing projects spread all over the world to show how communities of shared living have become a global phenomenon that can serve as a tool to promote social and urban sustainability. By presenting evidence that shared housing experiences are capable of revitalizing sterile urban fabrics and promoting social sustainable practices, the volume situates co-housing experiences as microscale responses to the macroscale challenges posed by environmental degradation and the decline of communitarian ways of living. The volume also reviews the most famous typologies of shared living in different parts of the world across human history. By analyzing historical experiences in different regions of Africa, Americas, Asia, Europe and Oceania, the author shows that living together is part of a historical culture of sharing that is being rediscovered all over the world by people who activate public spaces, work in shared offices or live in contractual communities. The Co-Housing Phenomenon - Environmental Alliance in Times of Changes will be of interest to both professionals and scholars involved in urban design, urban planning and architecture, especially those in the field of sustainable urbanism. It will also be a valuable resource for public agents and civil society organizations dealing with housing, social, environmental and sustainability policies.

Glow Kids Nicholas Kardaras, 2016-08-09 We've all seen them: kids hypnotically staring at glowing screens in restaurants, in playgrounds and in friends' houses—and the numbers are growing. Like a virtual scourge, the illuminated glowing faces—the Glow Kids—are multiplying. But at what cost? Is this just a harmless indulgence or fad like some sort of digital hula-hoop? Some say that glowing screens might even be good for kids—a form of interactive educational tool. Don't believe it. In Glow Kids, Dr. Nicholas Kardaras will examine how technology—more specifically, age-inappropriate screen tech, with all of its glowing ubiquity—has profoundly affected the brains of an entire generation. Brain imaging research is showing that stimulating glowing screens are as dopaminergic (dopamine activating) to the brain's pleasure center as sex. And a growing mountain of clinical research correlates screen tech with disorders like ADHD, addiction, anxiety, depression, increased aggression, and even psychosis. Most shocking of all, recent brain imaging studies conclusively show that excessive screen exposure can neurologically damage a young person's developing brain in the same way that cocaine addiction can. Kardaras will dive into the sociological, psychological, cultural, and economic factors involved in the global tech epidemic with one major goal: to explore the effect all of our wonderful shiny new technology is having on kids. Glow Kids also includes an opt-out letter and a quiz for parents in the back of the book.

Il bosco nell'aula Alessia Scarinci, Discutere di educazione ambientale (EA) comporta sempre qualche rischio, perché al facile consenso spesso viene associata una compiacenza che maschera e giustifica il disimpegno dei contesti formativi nell'attivazione di percorsi volti alla promozione di comportamenti pro-ambientali che nell'agire quotidiano possono risultare gravosi. In ambito pedagogico e didattico bisogna fare attenzione a non ancorare l'educazione ambientale a dei modelli basati sulla mera trasmissione di conoscenze scientifiche. Compito della pedagogia e della didattica è quello, invece, di operare una trasformazione attraverso la riflessione, la collaborazione e la partecipazione alla vita sociale. L'EA non è da considerare semplicemente una nuova materia, ma spiega in che cosa consiste e come la si possa progettare, integrando momenti di indoor e outdoor e rilevando i processi che conferiscono efficacia operativa al criterio della interdisciplinarietà da trasformare in permanente stile dell'esperienza educativa. Nel testo sono affrontati questi temi, partendo da alcune premesse assunte come principi di fondo dell'impianto di ricerca.

Environmental Citizenship Andrew Dobson, Derek Bell, 2006 With a multidisciplinary perspective, this book considers the theory and practice of environmental citizenship, the obstacles to its realization, and the opportunities it presents for bringing about environmental and social sustainability.

La ricerca dipartimentale ai tempi del COVID-19 Elena Zizioli, Francesco Pompeo, Giuseppe Carrus, Vincenzo Carbone, 2021-07-16 La pandemia Covid-19 ha comportato conseguenze e trasformazioni prefigurando scenari inediti sul piano economico, sociale e personale, determinando anche nel campo della ricerca l'urgenza di esplorarne le ricadute. Il volume dà quindi conto delle indagini svolte e in corso, sin dai primi giorni del lockdown, dai docenti e dai collaboratori del Dipartimento di Scienze della Formazione dell'Università Roma Tre, toccando i temi più diversi: dalla didattica a distanza, all'università e nei diversi ordini di scuola, al futuro dei servizi di orientamento, dal lavoro socio-educativo nelle varie tipologie di servizi all'impatto della pandemia sulle comunità, dalle narrazioni ai linguaggi artistici a contrasto di quest'emergenza non solo sanitaria. Si sono così esplorate le diverse educazioni possibili, riassegnando centralità ai processi formativi e al benessere delle persone, provando a tratteggiare nuovi paradigmi e prospettive. Pasture Landscapes and Nature Conservation Bernd Redecker, Werner Härdtle, Peter Finck, Uwe Riecken, Eckhard Schröder, 2012-12-06 One of the main problems and aims of nature conservation in Europe is to protect semi-open landscapes. The development during the past decades is characterized by an ongoing intensification of land use on the one hand, and an increasing number of former meadows and pastures lying fallow caused by changing economic conditions on the other hand. In several countries the establishment of larger pasture landscapes with a mixed character of open grassland combined with shrubs and forests has been recognized as one solution to this problem. The book gives an overview of the European projects concerning to this topic - nature conservation policy and strategies, scientific results and practical experiences creating large scale grazing systems.
