Tattooed Skin and Health Jørgen Serup, Nicolas Kluger, Wolfgang Bäuml, 2015 With about 10-20% of the adult population in Europe being tattooed, there is a strong demand for publications discussing the various issues related to tattooed skin and health. Until now, only a few scientific studies on tattooing have been published. This book discusses different aspects of the various medical risks associated with tattoos, such as allergic reactions from red tattoos, papulo-nodular reactions from black tattoos as well as technical and psycho-social complications, in addition to bacterial and viral infections. Further sections are dedicated to the composition of tattoo inks, and a case is made for the urgent introduction of national and international regulations. Distinguished authors, all specialists in their particular fields, have contributed to this publication which provides a comprehensive view of the health implications associated with tattooing. The book covers a broad range of topics that will be of interest to clinicians and nursing staff, toxicologists and regulators as well as laser surgeons who often face the challenge of having to remove tattoos, professional tattooists and producers of tattoo ink.

Ink: The Art of Tattoo II Victionary, 2020-05-26 Originating as an ancient tribal practice that marked rites of passage, symbols of religious devotion, and badges of courage, tattoo art has evolved into a modern tool of expression encompassing fashion statements, memorials for loved ones, and pledges of philosophies or beliefs. Suits Made to Fit NewSkool Tattoo Collective, 2007 Catalog of an exhibition held at Works Gallery, San Jose and Dept. Gallery, Osaka featuring the body suit designs of the following tattoo artists: Wrath, Grime, Jason Kundell, Mike Giant, Craig Toth, Adam Barton, Nate Banuelos, Ron Earhart, Paco Excel, Phil Holt, Adrian Lee, Matt Shammah, and Horitaka.

Bodies of Inscription Margo DeMello,2000 An ethnography of the tattoo community, tracing the practice's transformation from a mostly male, working-class phenomenon to one adapted and propagated by a more middle-class movement in the period from the 1970s to the present.

Tattoo Nicholas Thomas,Anna Cole,Bronwen Douglas,2005-04-29 The popularity of tattoos today is a revival of a practice begun in the late eighteenth century, when Westerners first made contact with the native peoples of the Pacific. The term 'tattoo' entered Europe with the publication of Captain Cook's voyages in the 1770s, and Pacific tattoos became fashionable in the West as sailors, whalers and explorers brought home tattoos from Tahiti, the Marquesas, New Zealand and Polynesia. In recent years these early contacts have been revived, as native tattooists from Oceania have begun tattooing non-Polynesians in Europe, the USA and elsewhere. Tattoo is both a fascinating book about these early Oceanic-European exchanges, that also documents developments up to the present day, and the first to look at the history of tattooing in Oceania itself. Documenting these complex cultural interactions in the first part of the book, the authors move from issues of encounter, representation and exchange to the interventions of missionaries and the colonial state in local tattoo practices. Highly illustrated with many previously unseen images, for example the original voyage sketches of the first Russian circumnavigation of 1803-6, this is a fascinating account of early tattooing and cultural exchange in Oceania, and will appeal to the wide audience interested in the history of tattooing.
