Campo cañero e industria azucarera de los siglos XIX a XXI Ayme Plasencia Pons, Clarissa Ramírez Campos, Esperanza González Hernández, Luis Alberto Montero García, Luis Francisco Velarde Martínez, María de los Ángeles González Hernández, Rogelio Jiménez Marce, Virginie Thiébaud,2020-09-04 Este libro es resultado de un esfuerzo colectivo de historiadores y geógrafos sobre la temática de la actividad cañera-azucarera. El etanol brasileño como alternativa energética sostenible en el siglo XXI Izabel Rigo Portocarrero,2020-12-14 Apoyada en una amplia revisión bibliográfica, la presente obra se organiza en tres capítulos. En el primer capítulo se abordan los factores que contribuyen al fomento de las políticas de incentivo a la producción de los biocarburantes a principios del siglo XXI, a saber, la seguridad energética, el fin del petróleo barato y el calentamiento global. Desde la crisis petrolera de 1973, las preocupaciones sobre la seguridad energética se centran en las importaciones de petróleo como consecuencia de la creciente dependencia de muchos países con respecto al mercado internacional, la concentración de las exportaciones en un número restringido de distribuidores y el modo en el que las perturbaciones naturales, económicas y políticas afectan a estas prestaciones (CHESTER, 2010). Además, al depender de las actuales tasas de producción y consumo, se estima que las reservas conocidas de petróleo se agotarán en las próximas décadas, factor al que se suma la ya comprobada relación entre el calentamiento global y las emisiones de gases de efecto invernadero generadas, principalmente, por la combustión del petróleo en el sector de transportes (VERBRUGGEN y AL MARCHOHI, 2010; BERRANG-FORD, 2011). Se trata el tema de la sostenibilidad de la producción de los biocarburantes en el segundo capítulo. En este capítulo se pretende presentar un panorama general del debate acerca de la sostenibilidad ambiental de los biocarburantes en el período 2000-2010, con base

en la revisión de los principales criterios evaluados por los expertos. Para ello, se enfocan los dos principales tipos de biocarburantes ampliamente comercializados, con un importante papel en el contexto global, ambos pertenecientes a la primera generación: el etanol y el biodiesel. En la revisión, se han elegido como criterios de sostenibilidad el balance energético, las emisiones de gases de efecto invernadero, los cambios en el uso de la tierra, la gestión y uso del suelo y del agua y la gestión de la biodiversidad. Al final, se presentan las políticas de fomento a la producción y consumo de biocarburantes en la Unión Europea, en cuyo contexto se previa un aumento acentuado de las importaciones y, por consiguiente, la ascensión de los mercados internacionales en este sector. En el período en análisis, muchos países de la Unión Europea importaban el etanol brasileño especialmente para alcanzar las metas establecidas por la Directiva 2009/28/CE. De este modo, en el tercer capítulo se expone una visión general de la producción del etanol en Brasil y la tecnología empleada en esta producción, identificando los principales impactos ambientales resultantes y la legislación brasileña correspondiente en 2010. La investigación se enfoca sobre todo en la de la región Centro-Sur, responsable de más de un 87% del total de la producción de etanol (con el 70% del total en el Estado de São Paulo) en 2010. La identificación de las principales áreas de interés se basa en el listado de 127 cuestionamientos sobre sostenibilidad que han planteado Lewandowski y Faaij (2004), relevantes para la producción y el comercio de la bioenergía, y en dos trabajos de Smeets et al. (Sustainability of Brazilian bio-ethanol, 2006; The sustainability of Brazilian ethanol - An assessment of the possibilities of certified production, 2008). El enfoque aplicado en estas áreas se apoya en un método también desarrollado por Smeets et al. (2005) en el artículo The impact of sustainability criteria on the costs and potentials of bioenergy production.

Nuevos sectores productivos en la economía argentina Andrés López, Mariana Fuchs, Jeremías Lachman, Paulo Pascuini, 2021-12-01 El debate en torno a las relaciones entre estructura productiva y desarrollo económico ha regresado al centro de la escena a nivel internacional. La complejidad del escenario actual ha producido algunos cambios en cuanto a los ejes de discusión que ya no se agotan en la tensión economía versus recursos. Por un lado, la creciente relevancia del sector servicios y, por otro, las grandes cadenas globales de valor determinan que ya no importa analizar únicamente el patrón de especialización sectorial de un país, sino también el lugar que ocupa en las diversas etapas de las respectivas cadenas de valor. En este nuevo contexto, el objetivo de los nueve estudios incluidos en el libro es el de aportar elementos para el debate sobre el proceso de transformación de la estructura productiva en la Argentina y sus perspectivas. El análisis considera nueve sectores que muestran características diversas respecto de algunas dimensiones (tamaño, uso de factores, determinantes de la competitividad, etcétera), pero que comparten la condición de ser relativamente nuevos para la economía local. Además de entender la naturaleza, el desempeño y los impactos de estos sectores, los estudios aquí presentados intentan identificar estrategias y recomendaciones de política pública para potenciar su crecimiento y fortalecer su relación con el resto de la economía.

En busca de la cubanidad. Tomo I Eduardo Torres-Cuevas, Esta es una antología pensada, una selección de presentaciones, introducciones, prólogos, artículos y ensayos, con agudas reflexiones en y desde la génesis de nuestra historia nacional. Atrapa en su coherencia historiográfica de tres tomos. Con estos estudios históricos, en su primer tomo, Torres-Cuevas incita a identificarnos a profundidad con la Cuba pensada, en el concepto raigal de la cubanidad. Desde tres grupos temáticos: «En busca de las raíces», «El criollo. De la sensibilidad a la racionalidad» y «La razón ilustrada», diversas aristas se interrelacionan en única estructura ideo-temporal, la cual permite valorar las esencias del desarrollo, en acción y pensamiento, de la sociedad cubana, desde la conquista hasta los inicios del siglo XIX.

EL DR. FEDERICO FRANCO Y SU MANDATO PRESIDENCIAL EN LA HISTORIA DEL PARAGUAY Peter

Tase,2013-09-10 ...Luces y sombras se suceden en estos 14 meses. No sabemos, a la fecha en que escribimos estas lineas, cual sera el legado del gobierno de Franco. Un sector alabara sus logros: la implementacion del impuesto a la renta personal (IRP) en vigor desde 2004 que no ha podido ver la luz desde entonces, la colocacion de bonos en el extranjero y algunos programas en materia de salud y educacion. Sus detractores no le perdonaran el aislamiento del Paraguay en gran parte de America y le achacaran las sospechas de negociados en la compra de tierras por parte del INDERT (Instituto Nacional de Desarrollo Rural y de la Tierra), las criticas por la reduccion del presupuesto de la Universidad Nacional de Asuncion y particularmente del Hospital de Clinicas, asi como algunos actos de su entorno, entre otros...
