UPOV 1991 Miguel Ángel Rapela, 2024-04-16 En un mundo donde la innovación y la protección de la creación intelectual son pilares fundamentales para el avance y la sostenibilidad, llega un libro que se adentra en el corazón de uno de los debates más trascendentales y disruptivos de la actualidad agrícola y biotecnológica: la adhesión al Acta UPOV 1991. Esta obra escrita por uno de los referentes mundiales en la materia es un llamado a la reflexión profunda sobre lo que realmente significa proteger las nuevas variedades vegetales en la era genómica del siglo XXI. Con un enfoque meticuloso, examina el Acta UPOV 1991, marcando sus diferencias con el Acta de 1978, y clarificando los derechos y excepciones que otorga, así como sus limitaciones. Al desmitificar los malentendidos que rodean al debate público, destaca las características de una legislación pensada para impulsar la innovación y salvaguardar los esfuerzos de los obtentores. Este libro busca ser un faro de claridad al ofrecer un análisis imparcial y basado en la normativa, lejos de las interpretaciones ideológicas que han dominado la conversación.

Modern Supramolecular Gold Chemistry Antonio Laguna, 2008-09-26 Filling a gap in our systematic knowledge of gold, this monograph covers the fundamental aspects, while also considering new applications of gold compounds in catalysis, as nanoparticles, and their potential application as luminescent compounds. Written by an eminent team of authors from academia, the book analyzes the current status of gold chemistry, its special characteristics, oxidation states and main type of complexes, before going on to look at the synthesis of supramolecular aggregates due to the formation of gold-gold, gold-metal interactions or other secondary bonds. Final sections deal with LEDs, solvoluminescent and electroluminescent materials, liquid crystals and catalysis. While of interest to advanced chemistry students, this book is also useful for researchers interested in the chemistry of gold and its applications, as well as those involved in metal-metal interactions, heteronuclear chemistry or in the optical properties of coordination compounds.

Teaching Chemistry Around the World Björn Risch, 2010 As teachers we often tend to expect other countries to teach chemistry in much the same way as we do, but educational systems differ widely. At Bielefeld University we started a project to analyse the approach to chemical education in different countries from all over the world: Teaching Chemistry around the World. 25 countries have participated in the project. The resulting country studies are presented in this book. This book may be seen as a contribution to make the structure of chemistry teaching in numerous countries more transparent and to facilitate communication between these countries. Especially in the case of the school subject chemistry, which is very unpopular on the one hand and occupies an exceptional position on the other hand - due to its relevance to jobs and everyday life and most notably due to its importance for innovation capacity and problem solving - we have to learn from each others' educational systems.
