David Williamson

A Century of Artists Books Riva Castleman,1997-09 Published to accompany the 1994 exhibition at The Museum of Modern Art, New York, this book constitutes the most extensive survey of modern illustrated books to be offered in many years. Work by artists from Pierre Bonnard to Barbara Kruger and writers from Guillaume Apollinaire to Susan Sontag. An important reference for collectors and connoisseurs. Includes notable works by Marc Chagall, Henri Matisse, and Pablo Picasso.

The Cid and His Spain Ramón Menéndez Pidal,2016-07-07 This study of El Cid, first published in English in 1934, is by the leading authority on the medieval history and literature of Spain. The Cid occupies a unique position among national heroes. Others such as King Arthur and Roland are but shadowy figures in the historical record, but El Cid is very much better documented. This book also paints a striking picture of eleventh-century Spain, bringing out the importance of the country as a link between Christian and Muslim civilization.

Epistolaris d'Hipòlita Roís de Liori Hipòlita Roís de Liori i de Montcada (comtessa de Palamós),Estefania de Requesens,2003 Dos epistolaris únics, tant pel contingut i els personatges citats com pel volum de missives. Es tracta de cartes privades, familiars, escrites per dues dones en un llenguatge planer, adreçades a diferents membres de les seues famílies, criats i servidors, que fan referència als assumptes familiars i domèstics, al seu patrimoni i a la seua vida íntima.

Cartes i salut al segle XVI Francesc Devesa i Jordà,2024-10-23 Durant la primera meitat del segle XVI, dues dones de l'aristocràcia, Hipòlita Roís de Liori i Estefania de Requesens, mare i filla, mantenen una activa correspondència i parlen sovint de la salut, la dels seus i la del seu entorn. Francesc Devesa ha estudiat les cartes i analitza els símptomes i les malalties a què fan referència, l'embaràs i els parts, els remeis i l'alimentació, la violència, l'esclavitud o els rituals religiosos, sense oblidar el personal sanitari de l'època: metges, comares o llevadores, apotecaris i barbers. L'autor ens fa partícips de la intimitat de les protagonistes, pacients i guaridores alhora, dels seus sentiments, de les seues alegries i preocupacions i, en definitiva, de la seua saviesa, de transmissió principalment femenina, on conflueixen el galenisme oficial i la medicina popular en el context social i cultural renaixentista.

Cultural Organizations, Networks and Mediators in Contemporary Ibero-America Diana Roig-Sanz,Jaume

Subirana,2020-01-03 This book proposes an innovative conceptual framework to explore cultural organizations at a multilateral level and cultural mediators as key figures in cultural and institutionalization processes. Specifically, it analyzes the role of Ibero-American mediators in the institutionalization of Hispanic and Lusophone cultures in the first half of the 20th century by means of two institutional networks: PEN (the non-governmental writer's association) and the International Institute of Intellectual Cooperation (predecessor to UNESCO). Attempting to combine cultural and global history, sociology, and literary studies, the book uses an analytical focus on intercultural networks and cultural transfer to investigate the multiple activities and roles that these mediators and cultural organizations set in motion. Literature has traditionally studied major figures and important centers of cultural production, but other regions and localities also played a crucial role in the development of intellectual cooperation. This book reappraises the place of Ibero-America in international cultural relations and retrieves the lost history of key secondary actors. The book will appeal to scholars from international relations, global and cultural history, sociology, postcolonial Studies, world and comparative literature, and New Hispanisms. The Open Access version of this book, available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429299407>, has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution-Non Commercial-No Derivatives 4.0 license.

Història d'una família (segona part) Martí i Coll, Antoni,1979 És la continuació de la història de la família Palau, explicant la intervenció dels seus descendents al llarg dels anys en l'àmbit de la política, les lletres, la tècnica i en d'altres activitats rellevants fins a la darrera generació.

A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula Fernando Cabo Aseguinolaza,Anxo Abuín González,César Domínguez,2010 A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula is the second comparative history of a new subseries with a regional focus, published by the Coordinating Committee of the International Comparative Literature Association. As its predecessor for East-Central Europe, this two-volume history distances itself from traditional histories built around periods and movements, and explores, from a comparative viewpoint, a space considered to be a powerful symbol of inter-literary relations. Both the geographical pertinence and its symbolic condition are obviously discussed, when not even contested. Written by an international team of researchers who are specialists in the field, this history is the first attempt at applying a comparative approach to the plurilingual and multicultural literatures in the Iberian Peninsula. The aim of comprehensiveness is abandoned in favor of a diverse and extensive array of key issues for a comparative agenda. A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula undermines the primacy claimed for national and linguistic boundaries, and provides a geo-cultural account of literary inter-systems which cannot otherwise be explained.

Anarchism and the City Chris Ealham, 2010 A dramatic study of working-class urbanism and the fight for control of Barcelona.

Class, Culture and Conflict in Barcelona, 1898-1937 Chris Ealham, 2004-03-01 This book investigates urban conflict, popular protest and social control in Barcelona during the period 1898-1937. Focusing upon the sources of anarchist power in the city and the role of the organised anarchist movement during the Second Republic the volume concludes with an analysis of the decline of the power of the anarchist movement during the civil war in its identification of the local conditions that made Barcelona into the capital of European anarchism.

Nelida Marie d'Agoult, 2012-02-01 Winner of the 2004 Soeurette Diehl Fraser Award for Best Translation presented by the Texas Institute of Letters First published in 1846 under the pen name Daniel Stern, Nelida tells the story of a beautiful French heiress who surrenders everything—marriage, reputation, and an aristocratic way of life—for the love of a talented young middle class painter. Based on the author's own ten-year relationship with the pianist and composer Franz Liszt, the novel quickly became the scandalous bestseller of its day. Its author, Marie d'Agoult, has emerged as one of the most remarkable women of her time. An aristocratic Parisian woman who left her husband and child to become the companion of Liszt, d'Agoult became an accomplished woman of letters whose works included a major history of the 1848 revolution in Paris. In Nelida, her only major novel, she brings to life the deeply intimate parts of her own story and the era in which it took place. Written with a keen sensitivity to social mores and psychological nuances, the novel reveals the primal cry of a woman determined to control her own destiny without betraying her womanhood. Appearing here for the first time in English, Lynn Hoggard's translation of Nelida is ripe for rereading by today's readers.

Caliban and the Witch Silvia Federici, 2021-07-29 'A groundbreaking work . . . Federici has become a crucial figure for . . . a new generation of feminists' Rachel Kushner, author of The Mars Room A cult classic since its publication in the early years of this century, Caliban and the Witch is Silvia Federici's history of the body in the transition to capitalism. Moving from the peasant revolts of the late Middle Ages through the European witch-hunts, the rise of scientific rationalism and the colonisation of the Americas, it gives a panoramic account of the often horrific violence with which the unruly human material of pre-capitalist societies was transformed into a set of predictable and controllable mechanisms. It is a study of indigenous traditions crushed, of the enclosure of women's reproductive powers within the nuclear family, and of how our modern world was forged in blood. 'Rewarding . . . allows us to better understand the intimate relationship between modern patriarchy, the rise of the nation state and the transition from feudalism to capitalism' Guardian

Elizabeth I David Loades,2006-08-23 >

Elizabeth I David Starkey,2003 This lavishly illustrated book ties in with a major international exhibition opening at the National Maritime Museum in Greenwich on 1 May 2003. Timed to commemorate the 400th anniversary since the death of Queen Elizabeth 1 in 1603, and sponsored by Morgan Stanley, the exhibition brings together a wealth of paintings, manuscripts, fine art objects and personal effects which illuminate Elizabeth's fascinating history. Elizabeth was born at Greenwich and spent her first months at Greenwich Palace, on the site of what is now a World Heritage Site, Maritime Greenwich. The book, containing contributions from a number of well-known experts on Tudor history, will focus on Elizabeth's Court as well as her relationship with the City of London and its increasingly influential mercantile class. It will also reflect the importance of Elizabeth's maritime adventurers, and their role in creating wealth for the crown, burgeoning maritime enterprise and the beginnings of an overseas empire.
