Remembering Migration Kate Darian-Smith, Paula Hamilton, 2019-08-10 This book provides the first comprehensive study of diverse migrant memories and what they mean for Australia in the twenty-first century. Drawing on rich case studies, it captures the changing political and cultural dimensions of migration memories as they are negotiated and commemorated by individuals, communities and the nation. Remembering Migration is divided into two sections, the first on oral histories and the second examining the complexity of migrant heritage, and the sources and genres of memory writing. The focused and thematic analysis in the book explores how these histories are re-remembered in private and public spaces, including museum exhibitions, heritage sites and the media. Written by leading and emerging scholars, the collected essays explore how memories of global migration across generations contribute to the ever-changing social and cultural fabric of Australia and its place in the world.

Intergenerational Ethnic Identity Construction and Transmission among Italian-Australians Simone Marino, 2020-07-02 This book focuses on the transmission of ethnic identity across three generations of Italian-Australians, specifically Italian-Australians of Calabrian descent in the Adelaide region of Australia. Simone Marino analyzes ethnographic data collected over a three-year period to consider individual, familial and community cultural practices, as well as societal influences on ethnic identity transmission, in order to present generational differences in the understandings of Italian-Australian identity. Among other factors, the role of community events, community networks, and cultural practices associated with being Italian-Australian are examined. The transmission of ethnic identity is analysed through the lens of sociological theories, including Sayad's concept of double absence and Bourdieu's ideas of habitus and cultural capital, and is considered at the macro, meso, and micro spheres of social life. Ultimately, Marino's study reveals clear generational differences amongst Italian-Australians: the first generation, those who arrived from Italy, manifest a condition of feeling absent, the second generation present a condition of 'in-between-ness', between the world of their immigrant parents and that of Australians, and the third generation experience a sense of ethnic revival.

Le chiavi per l'Australia Tommaso Licchetta e Cherol Bracalè, 2014-07-09 Il pratico manuale cerca di dare risposta alle domande di chi inizi a valutare con serietà la scelta di un lavoro fuori dall'Italia. Che sia per pura esperienza o si tratti di una vera e propria alternativa "per la vita", l'Australia può essere un'ottima soluzione: il Paese è in costante sviluppo economico, il clima è piacevole, i paesaggi incantevoli, ma, soprattutto, le opportunità di lavoro e carriera sono legati a stretti concetti di tipo meritocratico. In ogni caso, meglio partire preparati! In questo piccolo manuale, abbiamo riversato il frutto delle nostre ricerche (fatte anche di esperienze personali vissute): i tipi di visto e come ottenerli, come redigere un buon curriculum vitae, il lavoro e come cercarlo, gli alloggi e come ottenerne di convenienti, i trasporti, consigli comportamentali, aziende italiane in Australia... fino alle basilari notizie su fisco e sanità e una serie di utili tabelle. Naturalmente, niente di esaustivo, ma solo un tentativo di dare ai nostri giovani più intraprendenti (e a tutti gli interessati) un primo bagaglio di nozioni mediamente utili per pensare alla "traversata" con un minimo di preparazione.

Stories from la Tavola Teresa Capetola, Luci Callipari-Marcuzzo, Sara Bavato, Elena Callipari-Nemtses, Pina Marino-Leyland, Daniella Trimboli, Gracie Lolicato, Margherita Angelucci, Angela Viora, 2022-03-06 This book is an anthology of short stories, poems, artwork and photos relating to food production, preparation and consumption by multi generation Italian and Italian Australian women. The contributions have been generated through bi-weekly meetings, using writing prompts and art workshops, via zoom, with the Ascolta Women collective across Australia. The book explores Italian and Italian Australian identities through reflections, memories and reflexive practices on food, its cultivation, preparation and consumption. The book purposefully does not recreate narrow and stereotypical representations of Italian identity through food tropes associated with, for example, pasta and sauce. Instead the writers problematise gendered and ethnic expectations of the role of women in Italian and migrant cultures in Australia. This is variously achieved through critiquing the role of food cultivation, preparation and consumption; use of food and its accoutrements as metaphors and symbols to challenge gendered, class and ethnic stereotypes; as well as exploring and honouring the inextricable connection between food, belonging and longing in Italian and Italian Australian migrant cultures.

Mediating Multiculturalism Daniella Trimboli, 2020-08-04 Using digital storytelling—a new media genre that began in California in the late 1990s and that proliferated across ‘the West’ in the 2000s—as a site of analysis, this book asks, ‘What is done in the name of the everyday?’ Like everyday multiculturalism, digital storytelling is promoted as an accessible, enabling, and ordinary phenomenon that represents cultural experience more accurately than official sites. As such, the genre frequently houses stories of migration, community, and ethnic and racial differences. In turn, digital story collections often act as digital monuments or repositories of multiculturalism, giving a digital life to narratives of migration, cultural difference, and national belonging. This is evidenced in one of the world’s largest public collections of digital stories, found in the Australian Centre for the Moving Image (ACMI) and referenced throughout this book. Using examples from this collection and pointing to comparable ones in the UK and North America, this book investigates how notions of the everyday become a channel through which certain long-standing discourses of race get redeployed in multicultural nations. What can digital storytelling teach us about the status and future of multiculturalism in these societies? Can digital storytelling re-mediate multiculturalism in new, progressive ways?

The Making of Medieval Sardinia , 2021-08-16 This landmark volume combines classic and revisionist essays to explore the historiography of Sardinia’s exceptional transition from an island of the Byzantine empire to the rise of its own autonomous rulers, the iudikes, by the 1000s. In addition to Sardinia’s contacts with the Byzantines, Muslim North Africa and Spain, Lombard Italy, Genoa, Pisa, and the papacy, recent and older evidence is analysed through Latin, Greek and Arabic sources, vernacular charters and cartularies, the testimony of coinage, seals, onomastics and epigraphy as well as the Sardinia’s early medieval churches, arts, architecture and archaeology. The result is an important new critique of state formation at the margins of Byzantium, Islam, and the Latin West with the creation of lasting cultural, political and linguistic frontiers in the western Mediterranean. Contributors are Hervin Fernández-Aceves, Luciano Gallinari, Rossana Martorelli, Attilio Mastino, Alex Metcalfe, Marco Muresu, Michele Orrù, Andrea Pala, Giulio Paulis, Giovanni Strinna, Alberto Viridis, Maurizio Viridis, and Corrado Zedda.

The Stone Virgins Yvonne Vera,2004-02-14 Winner of the Macmillan Prize for African Adult Fiction An uncompromising novel by one of Africa's premiere writers, detailing the horrors of civil war in luminous, haunting prose In 1980, after decades of guerilla war against colonial rule, Rhodesia earned its hard-fought-for independence from Britain. Less than two years thereafter when Mugabe rose to power in the new Zimbabwe, it signaled the beginning of brutal civil unrest that would last nearly a half decade more. With The Stone Virgins Yvonne Vera examines the dissident movement from the perspective of two sisters living in a small township outside of Bulawayo. In a portrait painted in successive impressions of life before and after the liberation, Vera explores the quest for dignity and a centered existence against a backdrop of unimaginable violence; the twin instincts of survival and love; the rival pulls of township and city life; and mankind's capacity for terror, beauty, and sacrifice. One sister will find a reason for hope. One will not make it through alive. Weaving historical fact within a story of grand passions and striking endurance, Vera has gifted us with a powerful and provocative testament to the resilience of the Zimbabwean people.

Our Forgotten Volunteers Bojan Pajic,2019-03-24 Australian and New Zealand volunteers were already in Serbia, treating wounded Serbian soldiers and fighting a typhus epidemic, before the ANZACs landed at Gallipoli in 1915. The Gallipoli Campaign sealed Serbia's fate, however, as Germany, Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria moved to secure a land supply corridor to Turkey through Serbia. Australians and New Zealanders accompanied the Serbian Army on a deadly retreat over wintry mountains to the Adriatic coast. When the fighting shifted to the Salonika or 'Macedonian' Front, many served there with the British Army, the Royal Flying Corps, two AIF units and six Royal Australian Navy destroyers in the Adriatic and Aegean Seas. Some died in action, others from disease. Several hundred doctors, nurses and orderlies treated the wounded and sick in an Australian-led volunteer hospital and in British and New Zealand Army hospitals. The author Miles Franklin was a medical orderly supporting the Serbian Army; her little-known memoir is quoted extensively in this book. Fifteen hundred Australians and New Zealanders served on this little known yet crucial battlefield. Now for the first time we have an engaging and comprehensive account of what they experienced and achieved in the Great War.
