Law and Power, 2023-12-28 In the Roman world, landscapes became legal and institutional constructions, being the core of social, political, religious, and economic life. The Romans developed ambitious urban transformations, seeking to equate civic monumentality and legal status. The built environment becomes the axis of the legal, administrative, sacred, and economic system and the main element of dissemination of imperial ideology. This volume follows the modern trend of a multifaceted, composite, multi-layered Roman world, but at the same time reduces its complexity. It views 'Roman' not only in the sense of power politics, but also in a cultural context. It highlights 'landscapes' and puts into the shadow important administrative and legal structures, i.e., individuals viz. local and imperial members of the elites living in cities, which ran the Roman world.

Sur le chemin d'Horus. Medhananda, 2024-06-03 Le chemin d'Horus est le premier tome d'une série de cinq livres sur les symboles de l'Égypte ancienne. Le livre avec ses 150 images nous plonge profondément dans le monde intemporel de notre propre âme. Il s'adresse aux lecteurs qui sont à la recherche d'eux-mêmes, et les emmène sur un chemin intérieur de découverte de soi. La conscience des anciens Égyptiens n'était pas encore dominée par le mental analytique, mais orientée vers l'intérieur, vers les rêves et les processus psychiques, vers l'épanouissement de l'âme. Ce que nos ancêtres « voyaient » de cette manière, ils le communiquaient par des mythes et des images symboliques. Medhananda nous aide à comprendre, à percevoir derrière l'apparence, une signification plus profonde, et à explorer la dimension intemporelle et spirituelle. Ainsi, nous rencontrons en ces dieux à tête d'animal, en ces images symboliques, les représentations de nos propres forces intérieures, à la fois des processus de notre conscience et des forces cosmiques. The Chora of Metaponto 7 Joseph Coleman Carter,Keith Swift,2018-01-10 The seventh volume in the Institute of Classical Archaeology's series on the rural countryside (chora) of Metaponto is a study of the Greek sanctuary at Pantanello. The site is the first Greek rural sanctuary in southern Italy that has been fully excavated and exhaustively documented. Its evidence—a massive array of distinctive structural remains and 30,000-plus artifacts and ecofacts—offers unparalleled insights into the development of extra-urban cults in Magna Graecia from the seventh to the fourth centuries BC and the initiation rites that took place within the cults. Of particular interest are the analyses of the well-preserved botanical and faunal material, which present the fullest record yet of Greek rural sacrificial offerings, crops, and the natural environment of southern Italy and the Greek world. Excavations from 1974 to 2008 revealed three major phases of the sanctuary, ranging from the Archaic to Early Hellenistic periods. The structures include a natural spring as the earliest locus of the cult, an artificial stream (collecting basin) for the spring's outflow, Archaic and fourth-century BC structures for ritual dining and other cult activities, tantalizing evidence of a Late Archaic Doric temple atop the hill, and a farmhouse and tile factory that postdate the sanctuary's destruction. The extensive catalogs of material and special studies provide an invaluable opportunity to study the development of Greek material culture between the seventh and third centuries BC, with particular emphasis on votive pottery and figurative terracotta plaques.
